We Are Family

Wow, what an Opening Day: beautiful weather; drum line entry led by one of our Juniors, Trey Fortmuller; an early morning, quiet, member wedding; a member marriage proposal; and large quantities of chili available for tasting, thanks to the East-West Chili Cook-Off challenge. The East team was awarded first place by a distinguished panel of judges in a blind tasting, and the overall People's Choice Award also went to the East team – in a tie between their traditional and green chili verde offerings. Many thanks to Junior Staff Commodore Tom Madden for his herculean efforts in making the opening ceremony and organization of the chili cook-off an overwhelming success, to the chefs and their respective teams for bringing the Great American Chili Cook-Off to fruition, and General Manager Scott Jones and our staff for making it all seamless. To sum up the day in the words of Sister Sledge, “We are family.”

In keeping you abreast of our three focal areas, I am happy to report:

Membership: We welcomed four new Regular Flag members and a new Junior Flag member in May, with two more Regular Flag applications pending. I had the pleasure of meeting two couples during Opening Day festivities who attended as guests of members – they were amazed and impressed by the camaraderie and club spirit in evidence, and I suspect will be visiting Executive Secretary and Membership Administrator Jacque Pane soon to further discuss membership opportunities. This is a positive sign that our members are responding to the call to cultivate potential members.

Lower Level Remodel: What should be the last set of revisions is currently before the Newport Beach Planning Commission, so we remain in stay-tuned mode.

Strategic Plan: The team leaders and their teams, consisting of a dedicated cross section of members committed to investing their time and focus to plan the path for the future of BCYC, have begun their work. These groups are:

- Membership: Lynn Noah (team leader), Director EB Barden, Jill Bernard, David Foster, JR Means and Staff Commodore Kenny Rozak
- Governance: Judge Advocate Tracy Tormey (team leader), Andy Everson, Director Larry Fortmuller, Staff Commodore Barry Levy and Director Jerry Shandera
- Fiscal Planning and Facilities: Roland Rapp (team leader), Staff Commodore Don Bernard, Director Bob Emmett, Staff Commodore Gary Tolar and Secretary Chuck Wert
- Yachting: Len Bose (team leader), Peter Haynes, David Levy, Eric Mayol, Robert Plant and Rear Commodore Sandy Mills

We again thank these members for their ongoing service to the club.

My Friends Are
Why I'm Fabulous

How true, how true – our BCYC friends and family are what make our club so FABULOUS. Proof was all around us on Opening Day. It was fun to see so many familiar faces and plenty of new ones. We have had a bumper crop of new members since the beginning of the year, with nine Regular Flag and Junior Flag memberships added. Thanks to all of you who have referred these folks. Please continue to help by encouraging them to get involved and jump right in. We are into our busy season, and there are activities and functions for all.

Make sure to wear your name tag, as this helps the new members connect with us. Look for the blue name tags – I saw one on Opening Day. Thank you, Jess Visser for wearing your name tag.

Thanks for all your support in making BCYC THE destination for boating, dining, socializing, volunteering and relaxing. It truly is a FABULOUS place.

Cruising

Summer Cruising

Summer is just around the corner and you know what that means – time for the Isthmus Cruise! This year, we'll enjoy the Isthmus "Island Style" AND combine it with The Turtle Rally, June 20-22. The Turtle Rally will be open to sailors in the community, BCYC members or not. Come to the island as part of the Turtle Rally, which leaves en masse from the Huntington Beach pier area at 11 a.m. on Friday, or on your own schedule. Either way you come, the rallyers and cruisers will be meeting up to share the weekend activities, which will include a welcoming party at Isthmus Yacht Club, Saturday morning pancake breakfast, the return of the Poker Walk and Feats of Skill event, and a barbecue dinner at the main bandstand with a live performance by Aged to Perfection. Mingle with club members and rallyers and show them that BCYC IS the "Friendliest Club on the Bay." Sign up on the BCYC website or Turtle Rally page. Orders for Turtle Rally t-shirts will be available as well.

Have you had fun attending the cruises thus far in 2014? How about helping us plan and put on the cruises? The Cruise Committee meets the second Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. There are a lot more cruises ahead, plus some potential bonus cruises. Your ideas and enthusiasm are always welcome. Come join us.

Just a reminder that Clambake this year will be JULY 17-20 – look for more information to come. Sign-ups for this annual event starts June 7 at 9 a.m.

Junior Staff Commodore's Cruise: August 7-10 in San Diego Harbor

Cruisers will make stops at Coronado and San Diego Yacht Clubs – two outstanding destinations, perfectly located for exploring San Diego. Consider extending the cruise with a stay in Glorietta Bay pre- or post-trip. Another option for extending your trip is to reserve a guest slip at any of the other yacht clubs in the bay. If you are interested in staying in Glorietta Bay, you can make reservations online any time at portofsandiego.org for up to three nights. Registration for this cruise opens Saturday, July 12.

Clambake's Almost Here

Believe it or not, sign-up for Clambake 2014 opens June 7. This year, the dates have been moved to July 17-20. We are hoping these new dates will attract more members, including families that have been unable to attend in August due to the start of the school year. This is the most kid-friendly cruise of the year with many activities geared for children of all ages.

The cruise will again be held in Cat Harbor on the southwestern side of Catalina Island, at the Del Ray Yacht Club facility. The moorings are plentiful and in the most protected harbor on the island. It is a bit of a trip to get there, but well worth the time as it is peaceful and beautiful. The landscapes on the west side of Catalina are breathtaking. We will head over on Wednesday, and invite everyone planning to attend to join us to help set up (it will not take long) and to spend an additional day at the island.

This year's theme is Monte Carlo/Cote d'Azur. If we can't all take our boats to the Med we will bring the Med to us. Join us as we celebrate BCYC's version of the Casino de Monte Carlo, The Grand Prix and the Yacht Club de Monte Carlo.

One of the things we really enjoy about this cruise is the inclusion of meals. The cost of the cruise includes all meals, starting with dinner on Thursday night through dinner on Saturday night. This is a big plus on the west end as dining options are very limited. It is nice to be able to just show up and not have to worry about cooking on board.

I hope you will consider participating in Clambake 2014. It is another world in Cat Harbor and well worth the effort to get there. See you there!

Hats Off To Great Crews

By the time you read this, spring will be in its last few days and summer will be just around the corner with all its excitement and fun. I want to take a moment to reflect on one of the wonderful traditions of spring. That is the annual sailing race down the California coast to Ensenada, Mexico, an event that has always excited and awakened the spirit of adventure in me.

This year, BCYC's participation was significant, as usual. We had several boats racing in very unusual conditions, battling strong winds and big seas. Our race boats did very well, collecting many trophies in far tougher conditions than I have ever seen in that race. In fact, BCYC was awarded the Jeff Deaver trophy as the yacht club that won the most perpetual trophies! We congratulate everyone who participated. We also congratulate the many members who worked on the Race Committee in those same tough conditions carrying out the jobs necessary to get the racers off. Others provided the use of boats and/or were on press, check-in and the photography boats, as well as working in numerous capacities at the finish in Ensenada.

From my perspective of driving the photography boat, I do not know how Bronny Daniels and Leslie Richter managed to get such crisp and exciting action photos from my 20' Edgewater, which was anything but a stable platform. We bounced, we got wet, we were thrown about, yet they clicked on, creating pictures that will become lasting memories for the racers. I had the advantage of holding on with both hands, tightly gripping the wheel, but Bronny and Leslie had both hands on their heavy, long-lens cameras, balancing their bodies in some mysterious manner while protecting their cameras from the constant spray. Hats off to the volunteers, sailors and to the two ladies who photographed them.

Summertime And The Livin' Is...

Summer is just around the corner! A great way to welcome it is by attending the Cooking Class with Chef Georges Rapicault, Saturday, June 14, at 10:30 a.m. This interactive class, with the theme, 2 Hot 2 Handle, will feature recipes and demonstrations of how best to use sauces and rubs, with a barbecue lunch to follow. Cost is $25 per person, inclusive. A big thank you to our event's co-chair couples, Kip and Gail Cyprus, and Jim and Lorie Buchanan, for their hard work and creativity. Do not miss this event!

The dog days of summer will be celebrated with the annual Dog Show Saturday, July 26, at 9:30 a.m. This family event gets bigger and better each year. You do not need a dog to attend. Prizes will be awarded for agility, best in show, obedience, tricks and owner/pet look-alike. The photo contest last year was a big success. So get Rover ready for his/her big day! Dogs do not have to participate – they can just watch, learn, enjoy and have some treats (just like the people).

Join Las Commodoras for the lazy days of summer with good food, fun entertainment and friends.

R And R - Racing And Recruiting, That Is

As the 2014 racing season hits full speed, the recruiting season for summer coaches is coming to an end. Quickly approaching my 10th year at BCYC, the search for quality summer coaches is always an exciting time. The rollercoaster ride known as the BCYC Summer Sailing Program has evolved into a smooth and organized breeding ground for talented sailors and committed instructors.

In preparation for every upcoming summer, the search for top-tier coaches in the talent-rich environment of Southern California should be easy, right? Wrong – have you ever heard the phrase: “the best athlete doesn’t always make the best teacher?” Well in many cases this has proven to be true.

With a pool of some of the best young sailors in the USA, this makes finding the “chosen few” that much harder. A normal turnover rate for most programs is about five instructors per summer, and the pressures to hook the best before the rest in our area can be a daunting task. Searches mainly begin after the past summer concludes, but for many program directors, the search never stops. The goal is always to find individuals with a quality work ethic, organization skills, attention to detail and love for kids equal to the love of the sport.

Every director has a distinct management style, and in my case, I am so happy that the staff here at BCYC has adapted to my style and have been such a committed group. With coaches who migrate here from other clubs and some having grown through our program, I can strongly state that we have some of the best. With a near 100 percent return of past years’ instructors, I know and trust our team. We have worked together for multiple years and there is an amazing chemistry amongst the group, making this the best program in the harbor!

BCYC Goes Global

Newport Harbor is one of the most beautiful places in the world and is also an excellent training venue for sailing. We are lucky to have this place as a playground. And some of us junior sailors, with the support of the club, family and schools, have the extra privilege to compete and test our abilities in other beautiful places.

My Corona del Mar High School varsity team took fourth place (20 teams from around the U.S. competed) in the Interscholastic Sailing Association (ISSA) Doublehanded Nationals in San Diego for the Mallory Trophy, May 9-10. Next we will race in the ISSA Team Racing Nationals for the Baker Trophy to be held in Seabrook, Texas, near Houston, over Memorial Day weekend. BCYC sailor Jordan Sellinger will be joining me and the CdM sailing team for these championships.

Another junior board member, Max Mayol, had the opportunity to sail in Italy at the Lake Garda Optimist Regatta in April representing the United States. Shortly after that, he and his brother Jake sailed in the Optimist trials in Stamford, Connecticut.

Max and I tested the waters this month at the Skiff Festival in Santa Barbara, sailing the 29er. Competing in our first major regatta in this boat, we finished in 10th place in a field of 18 teams. Who knows, we might be lucky enough to participate in the 29er World Championships in Kingston, Ontario, Canada this summer.

Lastly, my sister, Sammy, will be trapezing on a 420 at the 2014 U.S. Junior Women’s Doublehanded Championship for the Ida Lewis Trophy hosted by American Yacht Club in Rye, New York, June 15-20. Stay tuned for her assessment as to whether BCYC still reigns supreme in hosting a national regatta!

Our playground just keeps getting bigger!

OPENING DAY 2014

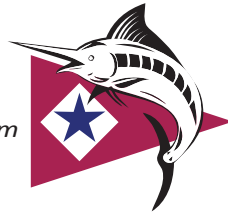

OPENING DAY 2014

Angling
Kip Cyprus
 kipcyprus@aol.com

Warm Water = Big Fish

As summer approaches, the warmer waters from Mexico get pushed to the north, and the game fish follow. Striped marlin, tuna and dorado like 68- to 72-degree water — temperatures of our local waters during late summer and early fall. Black marlin, wahoo and blue marlin like 80-plus-degree water. The blacks and blues travel to Cabo San Lucas from the south, and the striped marlin, tuna and dorado come as far north as Southern California.

It takes a good skipper, along with a decent angler, to land a large game fish. Once the fish hits the bait or lure, it's the skipper who sets the hook with the boat. When fishing, the worst thing that can happen is to have the fish swim under the boat. You will almost always lose your fish when this happens because the line will come in contact with the props, struts or rudder. Even if it doesn't touch the metal, just the abrasion of the hull on the line will cause it to weaken and break. It's up to the skipper to keep the fish off the stern of the boat. As the fish pulls out the line, the skipper backs up to help the angler retrieve the line. If the fish comes towards the boat, the skipper pulls away. If the fish runs to port or starboard, it's up to the skipper to keep the line directly behind the transom. Sometimes a large fish will pull so hard that the angler can run out of line. When that happens, the skipper will order the angler to port or starboard and run the boat hard forward to retrieve the line. Once the line is retrieved, the skipper will pivot the boat so the angler is working the fish from the transom once again. It's very exciting to work a big game fish.

We didn't exactly have a stellar day on our May club fishing trip. That's why it's called fishing, not catching. After breakfast at the club, we left the dock around 9 a.m. Aboard Pura Vida, Director Abbot Alyoush's boat, were Director EB Borden, Debby Fisher, Rhonda Tolar and Tim Whelan. On my boat, Salt Shaker, were Jim Buchanan, Damon DiMaria, Vance DiMaria and Bob Sasine. We picked up some live squid and went to Church Rock, off the east end of Catalina, then around the back side to Silverado Canyon. The fish weren't biting! We then went to the oil rigs off the coast near Huntington Beach and caught six sand dabs. Abbott had some mechanical difficulty and went to Avalon for lunch. There is a possibility they caught some fish, but I haven't seen any pictures. Here is our picture showing the 'big' one that did not get away.

June Gloom

Did you know "June Gloom" is a Southern California term for a weather pattern that causes cloudy, overcast skies with cool temperatures during the late spring and early summer, most commonly during the month of June? If it occurs earlier, we call it "May Gray." Later, it is called No-Sky July, or Fogust.

Good news! It won't be gloomy or foggy in Two Harbors during the Turtle Rally. Where better to enjoy the Summer Solstice on Saturday, June 21? It's the longest day of the year and we'll be on Catalina! Bring sun block.

The Bogart Series, the first half of the Ocean Racing Series, finally concluded after a major weather delay caused by a combination of high winds, water spouts, and 15-foot seas! We ended up with some great weather for the race back from Avalon – I think most boats beat their prior best elapsed-time records. As usual, waterlines ruled.

The Angelman Series, the second half of the Ocean Racing Series, is well underway. Six more windward/leeward races and we'll award the Angelman and Ocean Series trophies. The last Ocean Series race is part of the Newport Harbor High-Point Series...even more boats on the start line!

Have you been at the club for a Taco Tuesday yet? Event Chair, Rhonda Tolar, has raised the fun level again. The "Taco Girls," raffles and great food – how does she and Chef Georges Rapicault do it? Almost forgot about the racing (no chance)...need crew or want to race? E-mail me at paul.decapua@cox.net.
